DEAR CUSTOMER,

Thank you very much for your interest in RADIX!

Please read the following pages, install the program and try it out.

Then, as soon as possible, register yourself by sending us your contact information, and tell us something about yourself: what you are doing with astrology (hobby, profession, research, teaching,...), how long you do it, where you studied,... And of course we welcome feedback about the program: what you like and what you miss,... Don't hesitate to give your suggestions to improve it; maybe it can be done.

Once we know who you are, you can then count on the author's support in case of an eventual problem.

Also, you will be informed when new versions come out. The upgrade price for registered users is very advantageous!

On our web page (www.astrovdm.com) you can always check about new developments too (and lectures we organize).

Also for astrology courses you can contact us: my wife Dragana has a diploma from the Faculty of Astrological Studies in London and works as a professional astrologer since many years.

INSTALLATION OF THE PROGRAM

You need at least Windows 95 to run this program, and at least Windows 98 to read the help file, and 30 megabyte free on your hard disk. If you don't have this, we still have a DOS version available.

- 1) Installation from CD-ROM:
If you put the RADIX CD in your CD-ROM reader, the installation will normally start automatically. If it doesn't, click on the icon of "My Computer", then open the CD window and double-click on "Setup.exe" to start the installation program.
- 2) Installation from internet:
Go to www.astrovdm.com/radix5en.htm, and click the indicated place to download the installation file. This may take a few minutes since it is 16MB. Then start the installation (click the button "start" or "execute" or "open" or something similar in your language).

The program will be installed in the directory "c:\radix5" unless you indicate another destination.

If you had a previous version of Radix (4.x), you can drag your old horoscope databases (folders *.hor) into the new folder and use them.

COPY PROTECTION

RADIX is copy-protected in that sense that it will only work on your computer.

The first time you start the program, it will show your PC's identification number. If I received your payment, I will calculate your user's code (for which I will need the number you see on your screen), so you can continue to work. Call me at +32/9/2277036 or better: send an e-mail (koen@astrovdm.com) with this id number and the serial number on the CD to get the corresponding code number. In case nobody is home, please speak your identification and phone number into the answering machine, and I will phone/fax/e-mail you back as soon as possible. The program will work for the first 25 days without code, so you have some time to contact me.

If you want to explore the program before you decide, you can just click the OK button and continue (the program will tell that the code was wrong, but don't mind that.).

Sorry for this little inconvenience, but I've worked on this program for years and I can't afford to let anybody make pirate copies of it.

In case my address one day appears to be incorrect and you can't find it on the internet, you can call my parents (+32/3/8876138) to get it. If my wife and I ever die (?) my son Aschwin can help you with the code (Ajuinmarktstraat 43, B-9050 Gent).

INSTALLATION OF OPTIONAL INTERPRETATION TEXT FILES

For this program, you can purchase optional delineation files. These have to be put in the same folder as the program file: in Windows Explorer you drag all the files from "A:" (if you have them on diskette) or from the folder

"optional text files" on the CD-rom and drop them in the radix folder (normally "C:\RADIX5" unless you installed it in another directory). If you are not familiar with this, look in your Windows Help for the subject "Copying files".

Copying these files for third parties is - of course - not allowed, and the responsibility for their usage is entirely up to you.

GETTING STARTED

After the installation, you can start Radix by selecting it in the Windows program list that appears when you click the Start button.

The first thing you should do now is pressing F1 to activate the help window, and click on the subject "How to start?"

Of course, if you really get lost, or if you think you found a bug (according to Murphy's Law there will always be) you can contact me.

SAFETY COPIES

Even in the best PC files happen to get lost sometimes. To avoid tragedies make copies of your chart files regularly: drag the directories ending on ".hor" to a diskette or CD-rom (using Windows Explorer).

Also keep copies of your personal interpretation files, transit concentration definitions (.tkp) or models (.mo, *.tmo, *.omo) if you made them.

COPYRIGHT

You are legally allowed to make backup copies of the program diskettes/CD, but only for your personal use, not to give it to other people!

Satisfied about this program?

Please tell it to others!

Not satisfied?

Please tell me, I might be able to help you!
